

Four Seasons Hotel George V Spa distinguished as Best Hotel Spa in Europe by Travel & Leisure.

July 2014 – The American magazine Travel & Leisure just nominated the Spa of the Four Seasons Hotel George V Best Hotel Spa in Europe.

The ranking, compiled every year, is determined by the magazine's readers vote asked to answer a questionnaire and rate their favorite Spa according to four criteria: the atmosphere, the treatments, the service, and the price / quality ratio.

Decorated in a boudoir of Marie Antoinette by interior designer Pierre Yves Rochon, the Hotel George V Spa has attracted its clientele with its very French style and a list of treatments constantly being updated. The wall coatings, in pastel shades of blue, pink and beige, create a soft and bright atmosphere. Designed in harmony with the rest of the place, the Spa has the charm of "house" of a private mansion. The reception and service, simple and warm friendly services are the key elements of the space dedicated to the comfort and well-being. Treatments and massages are done with the highest level of professional skills specially developed through the Carita, Sodashi and Swiss Perfection.

The Spa at the George V offers 11 treatment rooms lined with toile de Jouy, including two dedicated to hairdressing and hair care, fitness and an indoor swimming pool with "trompe l'oeil" giving guests the impression to be in the gardens of Versailles. The Spa menu highlights a wide selection of facials, body treatments, massages and wraps, available for a short break at lunchtime or in the form of longer packages .The pool and fitness remain exclusively reserved for hotel guests.
